Henry Jones and William Starke (both Colored) had a fight Monday night in the mar-room of James Davis. It is said that Jones attempted to draw a pistol on Starke, when the latter began hammering him over the head with a coal scattle.

After he had reduced his face to a jelly palp, Starke fled. Jones was carried to his home, No. Ni Shook street, where the ambalance was summinged and where the ambulance was summoned and his wounds were dressed.

Later he was arrested by Policeman
Rogers and carried to the county juli,

The city and county officials are now on the hunt for Starke.

Both men were drunk at the time the fight occurred.

RICHMOND IS READY

To March Upon Cuba When the Word is

Mr. John W. Starke, who has been working energetically for the past few months organizing a company to proceed to the assistance of Cuba, just as soon as the United States takes action as regards the recognition of the patriots of that island, is in receipt of many leiters from various parts of the country inquiring about the matter and offering their services. One of the letters from Baltimore reads as follows:

"Pardon the liberty I take in addressing you but being in sympathy with your movement relating to Cuba is my excuse. Should you have any room in your company for a Marylander, just say the word and I am with you. Am their-sive years old, sober, and in good health. Hoping you may be able to use me in your undertaking, I awalt a reply.

Another letter from Boston says:
"If it is not too late, would you please let me know what the chances are? I have served in a military company four wars. Please answer."

Mr. Starke is very jubilant over the outlook, and is certain that Congress will do the proper thing just as soon as it meets next week.

Jordan complains of the prison confinement, but Foushee seems to be totally indifferent to his surroundings.

The boys hardly appreciate the gravity of their situation, and are inclined to treat the whole affair as a joke. They loudly protest their innocence. It was rumored that another one of the Reformatory inmates was an accomplice of Foushee's, but this could not be verified.

It was further stated yesterday that Poushes had admitted before the Coroners jury that he and Jordan had killed Tinsley—that they had plotted to do the murder for some time. This, of course, is denied by the boys.

DEATH OF JAMES E. GOODE, He Passed Away Peacefully at His Resi-

The death of Mr. James Edwin Goode, president of the J. E. Goode Printing Company, was a source of deep regret to that well-known citizen's large number of friends in this city. Mr. Goods passed away at his residence, No. 815 west Franklin street, Monday night, at

Mr. Goode had been ill from heart trou-Mr. Goode had been ill from heart trouble for several months, and his death was not a great surprise to his friends. He was only sixty years of age, and before he was attacked with his fatal illness, his health was of the most robust. He had for about forty years been engaged in the printing business, and was one of the oldest employing printers in the city. Mr. Goode learned the printers' trade under the old firm of kitchie & Dunnavant, for whom he worked many years prior to the war. Leaving them, he went into the office of his grandfather, John Warrock, the founder of the renowned Warrock & Richardson Almanac. John Warrock, the founder of the renowned Warrock & Richardson Almanac.
In 1857, when Mr. Warrock was paralyzed, Mr. Geode took charge of his business. Mr. Wærrock had for a long time been what was then called Printer to the Senate, and at his death, while young Goode was but 19 years old, the Legislature of Virginia passed a special act, in order to elect young Goode Printer to the Senate. This office Mr. Goode held until 1866, when the Legislature enacted a law creating the office of Superintendent of Public Printing, and John J. Palmer was elected to the place. After that time Mr.
Goode did much of the State printing, and no man in the city or State was better posted upon printing matters than was he.

From 188 until the day of his death e continued to publish the Warrock & ilebardson Almanac, making it a high tandard publication of that character, and adding to its vast scope of information. when he was exceedingly young. De-ceased leaves a wife, but no children.

THE FUNERAL. The funeral will take place from the residence, No. 815 west Franklin street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon the services being conducted by Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge. The following gentlemen will act as pall-bearers; Messra J. H. Dickerson, Albert White, S. H. Hawes, Judson Canningham, W. J. Blount, M. M. Gilliam, W. C. Camp, and J. V. Eldcood.
